Bingham Makes It Plain For Every Tobacco Man

Founder of Co-operative Selling Plan Delivers Great Address to Farmers of Madison County

Judge Robert W. Bingham, owner of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, and founder of the movement to organize a co-operative association for the handling of burley tobacco, roused a great crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm in a speech at the court house Monday afternoon, in which he declared that the wise, the prudent thing for the growers of Madison county to do was to come in and join their neighbors.

Referring to the 50,000 members of the association as an army, Judge Bingham said:

"It is an army of construction which brings peace and happiness, not an army of destruction bringing destruction and burning and demolition. It is an army of men working to help, not one whose business it is to hurt an enemy. It is an army whose purposes is the benefit to a great people, not one whose object is the weakening of an enemy. It employs no force, for we would not have a Kentuckian coerced even a rough word used in presenting the purpose of this great army of peace. But it is up to 'one of the country's great constructive builders,' referring to Harry B. Hanger, and he declared that if warehouse facilities for the pooled crop proved inadequate it was his purpose to call upon Col. Hanger and 'whether it cost $10,000 or $100,000 to build such a warehouse as might be needed, to put in his hands the money necessary and tell him to go ahead and build it.'

Judge Bingham told of the preliminary work of the organization, of the difficulties that had been overcome and said that the Madison growers are not now being asked to help organize something but were being given the opportunity to join something already organized, not something just being started, but something which was an established fact.

Judge Bingham told of the plight the California prune growers found themselves in when they stayed out of the organization, were made the victims of you now to consider and to consider well, what shall be your position should you remain out of this movement."

Judge Bingham asked the outsiders where they expected to get help financially and said that the growers in the organization not only would have the support of the bankers of Kentucky, but of the federal reserve system and the war finance corporation.

Judge Bingham told of the position of the Louisville banks to lend the association a million and a half dollars recently and said that no sooner had the news been published that a big bank at Cincinnati offered to loan the association twice as much and tobacco rather protested against being open. He said that the prudent thing for the growers who had not yet signed to do the sensible thing was to come in while the result of the drive in the county to the heart of every man who heard him.

Judge Bingham visited the local plant of the Richmond Daily Register while in the city and was shown the plant, one of the most modern of its kind in any city of like size in the country.

He was greatly pleased to find the interest in the burley association so keen in Madison and said that it augured well for the result of the drive in the county this week. He went to Louisville by auto in the afternoon.

Organization Manager Joseph Passonneau, Col. R. E. Beatty,

General Henry Snell, Captain Leslie Knight and other Lexington dignitaries were here for the speech as were a number from Bourbon, Clark, Scott, and other counties which have signed 90 per cent or more of their crops

Referring to the way the farmers sell their tobacco, Judge Bingham asked what would happen to the business of the merchant who offered his goods in the same way, by laying them out on the floor of a warehouse and selling them to the public at what ever price was offered them.

"That merchant would go broke," Bingham told of the work of

Madison County Fox Hounds Do Well At Southern Ohio Meet At Gallipolis

Madison county fox hunters did exceptionally well considering their limited representation, at the annual meeting of the Southern Ohio Fox Hunters' Association at Gallipolis, Ohio, last week. S. B. Berryman, of College Hill, this county, returned with a hand some silver cup won by his dog, Arp, by String, in the endurance stake, and a handsome cup and several other honors which were taken by a dog owned by Dillard Hill, and two owned by Maupin Bros., of this county, which also took along.

Mr. Berryman says that the meet was a big success in every way and largely due to the work of President Arthur Beagle, of Racine, Ohio, who is well known to all Kentucky fox hunters. There was a fine show of extra good hounds, and the competition was keen in all the contests. In addition to the handsome cup won by his own hound, Tinicum, by Scott, owned by Dillard Hill, was awarded second honors in speed and driving and third in hunting and trailing.

Both of the dogs sent by Maupin Bros., are by the famous sire String, Liz, one of the best from the Maupin kennel, won the silver cup for highest general average. Turp was second in hunting and trailing and third in endurance.

had been done for the tobacco growers in the organization of the movement, with never a reference to his own hard work and devotion to the movement of time and money and energy, his audience gave him generous applause.

Judge Bingham's address here probably is the last of the campaign. When it was decided to reopen the books of the association, Chairman Burnam asked that Madison be given help the final week of the campaign and it was decided to ask Judge Bingham, as the most effective speaker of the organization, to deliver the address beginning the week's drive for signatures in Madison.

He made one of the most impressive addresses ever heard in the court house, with never a reference to anything except the subject in hand, with no attempt at entertainment, but with an earnestness of purpose that went to the heart of every man who heard him.

FRIENDS OF POOL BUY MADISON HOUSE

Richmond's tobacco situation, which has been one of the "sore" spots in the burley pool campaign, was somewhat simplified Monday when control of the Madison tobacco warehouse was secured by members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association.

Announcement was made that the interests of Warfield Bennett and Gariets Million had been purchased by local members of the Burley Association. This purchase gave friends of the Burley Association control of this warehouse, and it will not be opened for reception of tobacco and sales on December 15, as previously announced.

In his address at the court house Monday afternoon, Judge Bingham told of the taking over of this warehouse and said that if additional space were needed to handle the crop of this district

Col. Hanger and others would be called upon to build more warehouses.

This statement was greeted with prolonged applause.

Says Advertising Pays

Advertising through the columns of the Daily Register has again been proven the past week. A. D. Oldham & Co. announced through the paper last week that they would put a big cut on men's and boys' clothing. Mr.

Harold Oldham, who has charge of the suit department, says that without any exaggeration, his shelves of clothing have been wonderfully reduced and that he is more than pleased with the results which he got from his advertising.

MEN AND WOMEN OF RICHMOND!

Read the Remarkable Results From Tests Made At Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, of a New Tonic Food

Perhaps you are one of the thousands of men and women to day who are run down, tired out and "peopless." You sleep poorly are easily fatigued and suffer from a high nervous tension. Or you are irritable, easily annoyed by the petty details of your daily task, and approach your work in the morning with a listlessness and dull dread, instead of vim and vigour enthusiasm.

Such people, who feel themselves on the verge of a nervous breakdown, attribute it to over-work. As a matter of fact this is often far from the truth.

Science has proved that the human brain is so constituted that it can stand a tremendous amount of work—in fact is stimulated by it. But it must have the co-operation of a sound, well nourished healthy body. Nine times out of ten those who think they are suffering from overwork are really suffering from undernourishment.

They are not the victims of "nerves" but of Malnutrition.

What is this "Malnutrition" we hear so much about nowadays? Not the lack of food but the lack of a balanced ration, lack of the vital elements in the food we eat — the inability of our food to supply the body with those properties most essential for its growth and to sustain life.

Vitamines—the curious growth promoting, health-giving elements found chiefly in milk, yeast, leaf vegetables, eggs and the outer covering of rice, wheat and other cereals, are often eliminated from the modern diet because of scientific milling and over-cooking. Until those vital elements are supplied, the body cannot attain its highest development, the system is weakened, and low vitality is the result.

Now science has discovered an easy way of supplying these health-building vitamines in the wonderful new tonic food—which was perfected by Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Professor of Physiological Chemistry at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia called SUSTO, which contains in a concentrated form the vitamines of Yeast, Rice, Eggs, Milk with Beef Protein, Nuclein and Iron.

Before SUSTO was offered to the public it was subjected to the most rigid tests by Dr. Hawk at Medical College, one of the foremost authorities on nutrition in the country—who pronounced it the most perfectly balanced tonic food on the market.

SUSTO is not a medicine. It is a food balancer—it adds to the daily diet the growth-producing strength and life-giving elements that we are not getting in our daily food and which are necessary as fresh air to sustain life.

If you are irritable, pale and nervous, thin, worn-out and haggard take SUSTO, this wonderfully efficient new tonic food.

There is nothing like it to build

WOMAN'S CHANGE AMAZING FRIENDS

Mrs. Adkins' Neighbors Never Expected To See Her On Her Feet Again

"Tandie has given me new life and strength and I doubt if in my life I have ever been in such splendor as I am right now," said Mrs. Ruth L. Adkins, Earls Station, Westmoreland, W. Va.

"After a severe spell of pneumonia about a year ago, I seemed unable to get my strength back. My stomach was all upset and I was so nervous I never got more than an hour or two of sleep at night. I was almost a physical wreck and I began to fear that I would never know another well day."

The change that Tandie has made in my condition is nothing short of remarkable. My friends were all amazed at my recovery as they never expected to see me on my feet again. I recommend Tandie from the bottom of my heart."

Tandie is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading druggists.
